

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

BIOGRAPHICAL RECORD

OF THE

Alumni and Non-Graduates

OF AMHERST COLLEGE,

(CLASSES '72-'96.)

1871—1896.

(THE THIRD QUARTER-CENTURY.)

COMPILED AND EDITED BY

W. L. MONTAGUE, M. A., Ph. D., Class of '55,

For many years Professor of French, Italian and Spanish in Amherst College.

VOLUME II.

AMHERST, MASS.:

Carpenter & Morhouse, Printers.

1901.

PREFACE.

The first volume of the BIOGRAPHICAL RECORD of the Alumni of Amherst College, including the first fifty classes, was published in 1883. Its purpose was to supplement Professor Tyler's History of the college, with its view of the college life, the life of its teachers, trustees and benefactors, by presenting also the biographies of its graduates and thus serving to complete the view given of the work accomplished and the influence exerted by the college during the first half century of its existence. The character of the RECORD and the difficulties encountered during the ten years of its preparation are described by Professor Tyler in his Introduction to that volume.

After the 75th anniversary of the college it was proposed to prepare and publish a similar work for the third quarter-century including the twenty-five classes 1872—1896. A circular dated April 15, 1897 was sent to the Alumni of classes '72—'93. In November, 1900, only 769 returns had been received. These letters had been placed on file in the several classes but had not been compiled for printing. Several of the Alumni who were interested in the further prosecution of the work then generously contributed a sum of money towards defraying the expenses of collecting additional material and preparing it for the press. A new circular was prepared, dated Dec. 13, 1900, and sent to all the alumni who had not responded to the former circular. It was also sent to the home address (residence when in college) of non-graduate members of the same classes. The editor desired thus to enlarge the scope of the work, because in this way only can a complete idea of the influence of the college be given. Many of those who for various reasons were obliged to relinquish the college course received impressions and influences from the college which directed or modified their subsequent work in life. Some may have graduated at other colleges and thus divided the influence of the college upon their character, as some of our own alumni have taken only one or two years of their course in Amherst, while others have gone directly to professional schools, or business life, and thus owe to Amherst all their college training. Very few, however, of the non-graduates replied to the circulars, as it undoubtedly failed to reach them in consequence of change of address.

After the replies from the two circulars had been compiled and all possible information had been collected from college records, class books, class secretaries, college catalogues, year books, etc., a third circular, dated April 10, 1901, was issued and sent not only to those who had not responded to the other two circulars, but also to those who had replied to the first, in 1897, in order that there might be supplementary reports bringing the record down to date and making it as complete as possible. After these returns had been compiled it was found that about one-tenth of the alumni and five-sevenths of the non-graduates had made no report, while many returns of the alumni were deficient in one or more particulars. To the latter a "Postal card with paid reply" was sent asking for the desired information. To the former, the address being unknown, a "Return" letter, with stamped envelope enclosed addressed to the editor, was sent to the town clerk or family of each non-graduate, first to the town or city where he was born (if known), then to the town or city which was given as his residence when in college. Some letters have been returned from both, marked "unknown," "cannot be found," "no trace of the family," etc. Every trace has been followed until the information was obtained or further effort seemed hopeless. Some, both of the alumni and non-graduates, have been unwilling to make any report, but others have taken great interest in the subject and rendered all possible assistance. The editor is under special obligations to Dr. Edward Hitchcock through whose aid, encouragement and influence the work was undertaken; to Prof. E. P. Crowell for information taken from the Obituary Record of deceased graduates and from the returns of the first circular; to Prof. E. L. Wood, Registrar of the College, for access to the college records and for alumni addresses; to W. I. Fletcher, Librarian of the College, for the use of catalogues, year books, etc.; also to the editors of the class books of '73, '75, '76 to '88 inclusive, '94 and '95, and to Rev. A. H. Thompson of '72, John Albree, Jr., '82, H. H. Bosworth, Esq. of '89, C. S. Whitman, Esq. of '90, R. B. Ludington of '91, R. L. Williston of '92, O. H. Story, Esq. of '93, H. E.

Whitcomb of '94, and W. S. Thompson of '96. Thanks are also due to E. W. Carpenter, of the publishers, who has taken great interest in the work and rendered much valuable assistance.

Errors will undoubtedly be found, although the greatest care has been taken to render the record accurate. Some already noticed have been corrected in the supplement. Information received while the work was in press up to the date of Oct. 23, 1901, has also been inserted in the supplement. Probably nine-tenths of the statements have been taken directly from the returns, but even these may err, as conflicting dates have been given at different times. After writing for correction in some instances and receiving the reply "Wisdom comes with age, the last is the correct date," the editor has usually accepted the last report. In some instances where no return has been received, the occupation, places and dates have been taken from the annual list of addresses published by the college.

The arrangement adopted in the first volume has been followed in the second, making the report as brief as possible, avoiding all eulogies and stating the simple facts of each life without comment. The same general order has been followed in giving the record of each alumnus and non-graduate. 1. His personal history before entering college. 2. His professional or business life, including both the study and practice of his profession with the facts arranged chronologically as far as possible. 3. Official positions held, books or pamphlets published, and honorary degrees received. 4. The death of deceased members, marriage and number of children.

The total number of graduates in the twenty-five classes in 1845 : 1752 Bachelors of Arts, 92 Bachelors of Science, and one Doctor of Philosophy. The number of non-graduates is 692 including 37 who were members of two or more classes.

Of the graduates 350 have been clergymen, including 23 foreign missionaries; 188 physicians; 379 lawyers; 372 teachers, including 131 professors in colleges and 6 college presidents; 66 editors or journalists; 4 engaged in literary pursuits; 12 librarians; 13 farmers; 407 engaged in business; 5 were in the Union army in the civil war and 18 in the army or navy in the Spanish-American war.

Of the non-graduates reported in this record 36 have been clergymen, 58 physicians, 90 lawyers, 57 teachers including 11 professors in colleges, 30 editors, 1 librarian, 11 farmers, 241 engaged in business. One was in the Union army in the civil war, and three in the Spanish-American war. The average length of time spent in Amherst College by each of the non-graduates is four and two-thirds terms, or more than one-third of the entire course.

The number of terms is taken from the college register and may not be accurate in every case, as the date of leaving college was seldom recorded. If a student, who had been present nearly the entire term, left college before his work in any subject was completed no record of the term was made. If one subject was recorded the term has been included in this record.

It is hoped that the information collected in this volume will serve to increase the esteem in which the ever widening and deepening influence of the college is held, and like the first volume (as affirmed by Professor Tyler) "serve to brighten the chain of those college friendships which are among the most sacred that bind together human hearts, and which only grow more hallowed with the flight of years."

W. L. MONTAGUE.

Amherst, Mass., Oct. 25, 1901.

EXPLANATIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS.

When the place of residence as given in the entrance registration paper, or in the annual college catalogue, differs from the place of birth, it is inserted in brackets after the name of the student.

No mention is made of the college when the student spent four years with the class with which he graduated.

Graduates of the Scientific course are designated by the letters B. S.

A date followed by a dash and period (—.) indicates that the person is still at the same place or holds the same office, a dash followed by a semicolon (—;) implies that the date at which he left that place or office is unknown.

When no state is mentioned, Massachusetts is to be understood.
